Igor,

I hope you've been following alongside my pair trading recommendations as we've been making some good money!

The MCD vs SBUX trade idea I sent you earlier this week is sitting pretty in the money, and so far the 3 previous recommendations I've sent you have all been closed out for 82% profits!

The market seems ripe with opportunity at the moment, with 2 new trades I'll be putting on in Friday New York Trading.

They are long DE (Deere) vs CAT (Caterpillar) and long AMZN (Amazon) vs EBAY.

I'll be betting that AMZN will outperform EBAY over the next 21 days.

With DE vs CAT, I'll be betting that DE will outperform CAT over the next 14 days, I'm using a shorter timeframe since this pair is dramatically out of whack, more than 2.83 standard deviations from it's mean, so I expect it to come back into profit a lot sooner.

I've still got YHOO vs AOL open, it's currently out of the money and I may exit early before the 29th of Feb, the expiry date, I'll let you know what I do.

Other than that, since I've started sharing my trades with you, my StockPair Account is up more than 57% and I'm thinking of putting a larger amount of my own personal wealth in there to make some serious bucks!

Have a good weekend!

Jared.
